In response to multiple requests for recommendations of tools and products, we created a list with quality in mind. You can purchase lower priced versions of these items, but you get what you pay for. This is Doc Elliott's Mixology's Amazon Store. We trust Amazon's security and they have always stood behind products sold over Amazon. We do not warrant these products, so if you have a problem with any, please contact the seller.

We appreciate feed back – good and bad. Just to let you know, on any product you purchase from our store, we receive a small percentage of the sales price from Amazon with no additional cost to you.
